A Message From Superintendent Eric Olson:

As we move into the 2023-24 school year, it is our hope to continue to deepen our Vision of a Learner usage across the district and to continue to focus on differentiation for academics and behavior. We are not focused on widening our goals, but instead on deepening our commitment to the foundation laid. We have, for the first time in some time, clearly established expectations, goals, and outcomes for students and staff. We want to move forward by leaning into these expectations and instilling lessons, creating opportunities, and forging experiences that will continue to create a tangible and meaningful educational experience for each and every one of our students.

It is equally imperative that we remain steadfast in our commitment to our mantra of Every Kid, Every Day. If we want to truly uphold our mission and turn our students into effective communicators, resilient learners, critical thinkers, and persons of integrity, it will require a persistent effort to continue to meet our children where they are at every moment of every day. We know that children carry different burdens and bring different challenges into our buildings and our classrooms each day. Our continued commitment to understanding those burdens, easing those challenges, and providing relatable and realistic learning opportunities to all kids will help us move to the leading edge of education, not just in Wright County, but in the state of Minnesota, and the entire United States of America.

This district is spoiled with incredible educators and staff members at every building. Experienced, well-educated, and engaging teachers. Passionate, versatile, and skillful support staff. Leadership that is fully dedicated to the advancement of staff and students. And beautiful facilities, to boot. Above all of that, we are fortunate to be in a school community that cares, that shows up, and that supports today's youth and tomorrow's leaders.

We have all of the ingredients needed to continue to build on our prior success and to truly make Monticello School District a shining light in the world of public education. There is absolutely no doubt that we are doing great things in the Monticello School District. And, we're only going to get better.

Superintendent Eric Olson

Eastview Education Center is the gateway to the Monticello School District, serving 600 students in a welcoming environment of both early learning and adult opportunities. The EEC, as it's affectionately known, is home to Magic Preschool, ECFE, Kindergarten, Connect-5 for students ages 18-21, and Community Ed. The school culture is one of care and cooperation, created by a talented staff, a supportive Parent Teacher Organization, and volunteer corps that work as a team to help students be successful socially, emotionally, and academically. Positive, trusting relationships lay the foundation for the EEC to be a vibrant and thriving culture.
